Vaad Report

by Sol B. Shinder
President, Ottawa Vaad Ha'ir
(Jewish Community Council)

All-Day Executive Committee Session

The Executive Committee of the Vaad is made up of the five elected officers, the immediate past president, the general chairman and chairman of the Women's Division of United Jewish Appeal, the respective chairmen of the Women's Committee and Budget & Allocations Committee, a Rabbi selected by the pulpit Rabbis themselves and three members-at-large. These fourteen laymen are the executive arm of the organization with responsibility for its ongoing operations.

On September 9, we met in an all-day session to look at the goals and priorities of this administration in more depth than it had been possible since taking office at the end of June. We began by reviewing the purposes of the Vaad as set out in the constitution and concluded that they are broad enough to cover all of our concerns as an organized Jewish community. We are also satisfied that we have the structures to achieve these ends, given the human and material resources necessary to fulfill them.

The biggest challenge is how to get more people actively involved in communal affairs. It isn't enough for them to say 'I'm Jewish' and leave it at that. Judaism is more than a religious faith. It is a way of life and it has to be expressed in tangible ways. Some join a synagogue. Others identify through an organization. Many make an annual contribution to the United Jewish Appeal or other charitable Jewish causes. But far too many remain on the periphery.

This is an active Jewish community and a fair number are involved in one way or another. Our goal is to enlarge the circle of participants. We asked ourselves several questions. Do people understand the role of the Vaad? Is there an appreciation of the services and facilities available in the community? How do we heighten the sense of belonging on the part of the newcomer and those who are not so new? Is the Bulletin fulfilling the educational function for which it is intended? How can we give more people the opportunity to express themselves on matters of community policy?

Five years ago, the Vaad adopted a new constitution which enabled more individuals to take part in communal government. As a further step in this process, we decided on September 9 that the sense of openness we are trying to foster would be better served if we printed agendas of meetings of our Board of Trustees in the Bulletin ahead of time. The items would be accompanied by an invitation to attend the meeting as observers or to express a point of view on a particular subject in writing or in person. As a case in point, I can tell you that on September 26, the Trustees will be dealing with recommendations on the establishment of the new Jewish Social Services Agency of Ottawa-Carleton and the creation of an integrated planning, budgeting and allocations structure.

We also decided that on major issues, organizational input will be solicited in advance. Another useful idea which will be tested in the coming months is a series of town-hall meetings which we hope to arrange through the good offices of the synagogues in our community. I would welcome your reactions to these proposals and any other suggestions you may have to involve larger numbers in our work.

Our meeting on September 9 also dealt with the following matters:

Planning and Budgeting

We considered and adopted in principle a new system for allocating funds raised in our annual campaign by integrating the planning and budgeting process. The essential features of the plan will bring the Vaad and the beneficiary agencies into a closer partnership without infringing on their autonomy. The system will also enable larger numbers of trustees and U.J.A. donors to take part. Planning will become a year-round activity in which programs will be understood and priorities established well in advance.

Campaign 1980

In looking ahead to the 1980 campaign, we were mindful that it will take more in 1980 to maintain our local, national and overseas agencies at the existing levels of support. The major contributing factors are inflation here and in Israel, the cost of transition to peace and the increase in Jewish immigration from the Soviet Union and elsewhere.

We talked about the outlook for fund-raising in 1980, considered what can be done to spread the base of giving and questioned whether there are new techniques we should be employing in our campaign. This is really only the beginning in a series of consultations which will start when we name the general chairman of the 1980 campaign next month and charge him with the task of developing a campaign organization to produce the dollars needed to carry on our activities next year.

New Community Complex

Our discussion on the New Community Complex centered on our search for a suitable site and our ability to raise the $3 million-plus needed to begin work on the project. Several desirable locations have been identified and investigations as to their availability and cost are being initiated.

The Community Calendar

All of us live by a calendar. So must a community. Responsibility for this function rests with the Women's Committee under the chairmanship of Dorothy Nadolny.

The purpose of the community calendar is to avoid conflict and duplication. It works best when there is co-operation among organizations and respect for each other's dates. The system breaks down when these conditions are absent.

Each year at this time, the Women's Committee calls a meeting of the heads of organizations. Presumably, they have done their homework in advance and when they sit around the table, they record the dates they have established for their programs, special events and meetings. If there is a problem, it is usually possible to straighten it out on the spot.

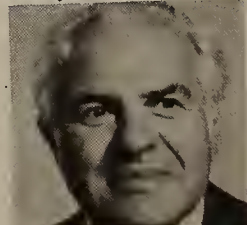

The information is then transcribed onto a master calendar and circulated to the organizations. It is then available for reference purposes should anyone call to check out a date. The recording of dates at the calendar meeting does not in itself guarantee that there is clear sailing ahead. Dates change, cancellations occur or something happens to alter the original plan. Unless these facts are duly noted and recorded, there is bound to be trouble.

The calendar is maintained by the receptionist at 151 Chapel Street. If your group plans to hold an event not previously booked, it is not enough to look at the listing sent out after the first calendar meeting. To be safe, you should phone 232-7306 during office hours. Ask what is taking place on that particular date. Consider seriously whether there is any possibility of conflict. Do not dismiss another organization's event out of hand. If you wish to proceed, ask the receptionist to book your date. If you change it, please notify her. Book everything. The community calendar covers all locations in town, including the Jewish Community Centre.

In the past, women's organizations have been co-operative. Men's organizations have been less diligent about bookings. Mrs. Nadolny is trying to rectify that situation this year. Hopefully, her appeal to all groups will bring a positive response.

Shana Tova

The officers, members and staff of the Jewish Community Council-Ottawa Vaad Ha'ir, join me in extending their best wishes to you and your families for a happy and healthy New Year.

Chairs Dinner

The appointment of Hyman Soloway, Q.C. as Chairman of the Ottawa Negev Dinner in honour of Hugh M. Grant has been announced by Herbert Zagerman, Chairman of the local Jewish National Fund Council. It will take place on Wednesday, October 31 at the Jewish Community Centre.

Establish Gilbert Greenberg Foundation

Establish Stanley & Libby Glube Endowment Fund

The Officers and Directors of the Ottawa Jewish Community Endowment and Bequest Foundation congratulate Stanley and Libby Glube on the occasion of their 40th Wedding Anniversary and thank them for establishing an Endowment Fund to mark that milestone in their lives.

Originally a native of Halifax, Stanley married Libby Lithwick, the daughter of the late Max and Dora Lithwick on September 10, 1939 in Ottawa. For a time, they operated a ladies' wear business in Brockville. Later, they moved to Ottawa and opened the Factory Surplus store at George and William Streets in partnership with Hy Lithwick. They retired a few months ago.

Stan and Libby are members of the Agudath Israel Synagogue, B'nai B'rith, Rideauview Golf Club and a number of other organizations. Mr. Glube served with distinction as President of B'nai B'rith Ottawa Lodge and as Chairman of the B'nai B'rith Camp Committee. Mrs. Glube made her mark with Israel Bonds, Hadassah, B'nai B'rith Women and Agudath Israel Sisterhood.

They have four sons: Malcolm, Norman, Allan and Brian. They are also blessed with seven grandchildren.

The Stanley and Libby Glube Endowment Fund is open-ended and family and friends may add to it at any time. The capital will be invested in perpetuity and the income used to further charitable and educational causes in Ottawa and in Israel. It will be a tribute to two highly-regarded people who have helped advance Jewish life in Ottawa in a meaningful way.

New Year's Parcels

Last week Gilbert Greenberg wrote to everyone in the community inviting them to join in sending Rosh Hashanah gift parcels to soldiers in Israel. This is the ninth consecutive year he has done so. Each appeal has brought a gratifying response.

The gift parcels are sent to soldiers who must remain on duty during the Holidays. It is done by the Association for the Welfare of Soldiers in Israel. The parcels, packed by volunteers, contain candy, toothpaste, shaving cream, an extra pair of socks and a greeting card with the name and address of the sender.

The object is to foster closer relations between the people and the army and to help ease the loneliness of the boys and girls who cannot be with their families.

Parcels are $7.50 each and you can send as many as you like. Cheques payable to "Israeli Soldiers Welfare Fund" should be mailed to Gilbert Greenberg, P.O. Box 5152, Station F, Ottawa, K2C 3H8.

The Ottawa Jewish Bulletin and Review is published by the Jewish Community Council of Ottawa — Ottawa Vaad Ha'ir, 151 Chapel Street, Ottawa K1N 7Y2. Gilbert Greenberg, Immediate Past President; Sol B. Shinder, Q.C., President; Joseph Lieff, Q.C., Alfred Friedman, Vice-Presidents; Issie L. Landau, Treasurer; Gerald Berger, Honorary Secretary; Hy Hochberg, Executive Vice-President. Bulletin Committee: Gerald Berger, Chairman, Rabbi Saul I. Aranov, Simone Goldberg, Mark Max, Sidney Margles, Dr. Eli Rabin. Nancy Zalman, Bulletin Co-ordinator.

$1 Million Goal for Israel Bonds

Yom Kippur Synagogue Bond Appeal to launch Peace Loan

A $1 billion Peace Loan will be launched in the Synagogues of Ottawa as part of an International Campaign by the Israel Bond Organization to help Israel borrow funds to meet the immediate challenges of the peace treaty with Egypt.

The Ottawa campaign, announced by John Greenberg, General Campaign Chairman, will be part of a drive taking place in more than 4,000 Synagogues throughout North America during the High Holy Days. A goal of $1 million in the Ottawa area has been set and this goal can be reached, Mr. Greenberg said, if each member of the Jewish community will recognize the importance of the Peace Loan and give it the fullest support of which he is capable.

"The cost of peace," Mr. Greenberg states, "is greater than the cost of war and we must wage the fight for peace with even greater vigour and more resources than was demonstrated in war. The Arab nations are engaged in an all-out economic war to destroy Israel and only the Jewish people can meet the Arab offence by lending to Israel the huge sums it needs to invest in its economy, to build the Negev and to effect the transfer of military installations and civilian settlements and population from the Sinai to the Negev."

Prime Minister Begin has called upon every member of the Jewish people to help meet the challenge of peace by investing in Israel Bonds and has urged that we double our commitment. Mr. Greenberg says, "We hope that the responsible Jewish community of Ottawa will respond to Prime Minister Begin's summons by lending Israel as much money as possible through the purchase of State of Israel Bonds."

The Israel Bond Appeal in Ottawa Synagogues will be held either on Sunday night September 30 following the Kol Nidre service or on Monday October 1 prior to the Yiskor service. The Israel Bond drives in each Synagogue will be spearheaded by the Rabbi, President of the Congregation and the Israel Bond Chairman. At Congregation Beth Shalom Rabbi Basil Herring, President Kenneth Radnoff and Bond Chairman Albert Rivers will head the campaign.

At Agudath Israel Congregation, Rabbi Irving Schreier, President Sidney Margles and Bond Chairman Dr. Sidney Kardash will participate while at Congregation Machzikei Hadas, Rabbi Dr. Reuven P. Bulka, President Harry Rosenberg and Bond Chairman Arnon Miller will assume responsibility for the campaign. At Temple Israel the campaign leadership will rest with Rabbi Donald Gerber, President Ernie Potechin and Bond Chairman Dr. Mark August.

Rabbi Mordecai Berger, President Morris Kimmel and Bond Chairman Sol Sherman will conduct the campaign at Young Israel of Ottawa. At Congregation Adath Shalom President Lyon Gilbert will assume leadership for the campaign.

The Israel Bond committees at each Synagogue have made arrangements for the distribution and collection of the Tab Cards. It is hoped that in the light of Israel's special needs to meet the challenge of peace, members of the Congregations will respond in greater measure to Prime Minister Begin's plea and that many more members will express their support by becoming Partners in Peace and in having their names inscribed in the Peace Book.

A specially commissioned, ten-colour lithograph by noted artist Phillip Ratner, will be presented to each Synagogue participating in this year's High Holy Day campaign for State of Israel Bonds.

The lithograph, each copy of which will be individually signed, illustrates the passage from Isaiah (2:4): "And they shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning-hooks". The passage, which was quoted by signatories of the Israel-Egypt Peace Treaty at the signing ceremonies in Washington, is inscribed boldly in Hebrew in the foreground, with an English translation in the background. The prophet Isaiah is shown holding a sword, which is turning into a plowshare, against a brightly coloured background of the Judean mountains.

The historic role of synagogues in mobilizing vital needed capital for Israel has long been a source of moral and material strength for the people of Israel. The effort this year takes a special importance as peace can only be maintained from a base of solid economic strength.

Co-sign Peace Treaty: Purchase Israel Bonds! Be inscribed in the Peace Book

A "Peace Book" in which the names of all Israel Bond purchasers will be inscribed as Partners in Peace and as co-signers of the peace treaty between Israel and Egypt will be available at each of the Synagogues in Ottawa during the High Holy Day season.

The front piece of the Peace Book entitled "Partners in Peace" is duplicated below.

This Peace Book presents the members of this congregation with the unprecedented opportunity to become co-signers to the historic Peace Treaty between Israel and Egypt.

By participation in the Israel Bond program, we support Israel's continuing, ongoing economic development needs.

By investing in the Economic Development for Peace Loan, we demonstrate our understanding that the challenges of peace are more demanding than those of war and that our brethren in Israel need our support now more than ever before.

שלום על ישראל

Buy Bonds for Project Renewal

In a recent issue of the Ottawa Jewish Bulletin, Sol

Shinder, President of the Ottawa Vaad Ha'Ir, devoted a major portion of his column "Vaad Report" to the use of State of Israel Bonds to pay pledges to Project Renewal.

As we enter into the last quarter of the year, when most members of the community fulfill their commitments, attention is once again called to the opportunity of helping Israel in its need for economic growth and fulfilling obligations to Project Renewal. By purchasing Israel Bonds in the name of United Israel Appeal and turning over such Bonds to the U.I.A., the dual responsibilities to Israel Bonds and to Project Renewal can be fulfilled.

Israel benefits by having the dollars used to purchase the Bond and Project Renewal benefits by having the pledge paid and the funds realized from the Bonds. Income Tax receipts for the full value of the Bonds are issued by the United Israel Appeal.

Members of the community who have not yet paid their Project Renewal pledges are encouraged to make such payments with Israel Bonds. A double mitzvah is performed with a single act.

REINVEST YOUR 1967 ISRAEL BONDS

In the aftermath of the 1967 Six Day War, a then record sale of Israel Bonds was achieved. The response of the Jewish community to Israel's war effort and the rebuilding of its economy was overwhelming.

These Bonds are now maturing and should be redeemed. Once an Israel Bond matures Israel receives no further benefits. The sums due have already been deposited with the fiscal agent in New York and now await redemption of the Bonds.

The money lent to Israel back in 1967 may continue to help Israel only if the redemptions are reinvested in New Israel Bonds. Now, fortunately, the help is for building the peace and not for the destructiveness of war.

Bring or send all mature Israel Bonds to the Israel Bond office at 168 Charlotte Street, Suite 504, Ottawa, Ontario, K1N 8K6. The Bond office will arrange to have them redeemed and the proceeds reinvested in the new Peace Loan issue.

The terms of the Peace Treaty between Israel and Egypt are reprinted in the Peace Book. The following pledge to the people of Israel appears after the terms of the peace treaty:

A pledge to the People of Israel

In acknowledging the significance of the peace agreement between Israel and Egypt, and in recognizing the central importance of the State of Israel to the Jewish people, we do declare and reaffirm our determination to help strengthen the peace process through participation in the State of Israel Bond program.

To this end, we now vow to continue our investments in this vital Bond program to further Israel's economy and, at this time, to add a special Economic Development for Peace Loan to help meet the urgent needs and challenges which have emerged from the terms of the peace treaty.

This document will be presented to the people of Israel and will be displayed at the Truman Peace Center in Jerusalem

The pages following the pledge will contain the names of all who have participated in the State of Israel Bond programme and the document will be presented to the people of Israel and will be displayed at the Truman Peace Centre in Jerusalem. The Peace Book concludes with a transcript of Prime Minister Begin's remarks at the Peace Treaty signing ceremonies at the White House on March 26, 1979. Prime Minister Begin's remarks concluded with a recitation of the 126th Psalm.

Director Services for Jewish Elderly

Services for Jewish Elderly is now two years old. In 1977, the Social Services Council was given a mandate to identify the needs of the elderly in the Jewish community and to initiate and develop programs to fill these needs. To date, programs or services have been started in five areas: information and referral, nutrition-socialization, friendly visiting, telephone reassurance, and transportation. The objectives and an evaluation of four of the programs appear below.

Luncheons

Held once a month, the seniors luncheons begin with lunch prepared and served by a volunteer committee chaired by Dorothy Lieff. Entertainment is provided after lunch; we are currently giving some thought to a pre-lunch program as well. We started with 24 attendees and 4 volunteers 14 months ago. We now have a roster of almost 40 volunteers, some more active than others, and we have recorded as many as 127 attendees at one function. The luncheons appear to provide a much-needed opportunity for our elderly people to get out and socialize. The meals have a reputation of being creatively planned, prepared and served, and this is undoubtedly a major drawing card. Dorothy requires 11 volunteers for each luncheon and currently needs about 6 more to add to her roster. She is also looking for someone to "understudy" her, someone with experience in mass cooking who enjoys working with a volunteer crew and who would be here during the winter months.

Luncheon Chairman
Dorothy Lieff,
Tel. 722-2444.

Transportation

Transportation is a major problem for many seniors. Our clients require transportation mainly to luncheons and Golden Age Club meetings Mondays. Debi would like to have additional names for her roster. Drivers are also needed to take people to doctors' appointments, apartment-hunting, shopping and errands, as well as social functions. Abbo Kent would like to start a Shopping Bus service once a week but we would need someone to alternate for him, someone to help out on the bus, and a fourth person to co-ordinate by telephone.

Transportation
Coordinator
Debi Shore,
Tel. 733-4235.

Friendly Visiting

There are at least 50 housebound elderly people living alone in the Jewish Community. Others may not live alone but are alone all day until the family comes home. Others may not be completely housebound but live alone and have no relatives in Ottawa. Social contacts are essential for the well-being of any age group. Loneliness is an overwhelming problem with a great number of elderly people. There are currently 13-15 volunteers in the friendly visiting program; many more are needed. We hope to get a group of volunteers who will commit themselves to creating a Jewish environment especially on Sabbath and Holidays for those 40-50 Jewish elderly living in non-Jewish institutions. We also would like to obtain a group commitment to service the dozen or so elderly persons convalescing from hospitalization alone in their apartments at any given time in the downtown area.

Friendly Visiting
Coordinator
Toby Nathanson,
Tel. 224-2027.

Tele-shalom

This is a program of telephone reassurance in which seniors living alone are called daily by volunteer callers to make sure nothing has happened. In case something does go wrong, emergency backup is provided. This program is funded by a federal New Horizons grant. Mark August is President of the Board of Directors; Lisa Garman is co-ordinator. Services for Jewish Elderly initiated and developed the program under the auspices of the regional umbrella organization, "Telecheck", and presently provides supervision and backup for the direct service. There are currently 15 client-volunteer matches. At least another 15 clients are waiting to be assessed and eventually matched with a caller. Both callers and intake workers to do home assessments are needed.

Tele-shalom Chairman,
Mark August,
Tel. 746-1589.

Israel Bond Gift Club

After the normal lull of summer vacations, the Israel Bond Gift Club Registry is beginning its second year of activity. Having as its purpose, the receipt of contributions of gifts towards the purchase of a State of Israel Bond to mark a special occasion, the Gift Club Registry has already enrolled more than 50 members. Used principally to celebrate Bar/Bat Mitzvahs, the Gift Club Registry also serves to mark births, birthdays, sweet 16's, graduations, etc.

Mrs. Barry (Ricky) Baker, Chairman, and Mrs. Sam (Sandra) Fishbain, Vice Chairman, of the Gift Club Registry, have announced that any individual may be enrolled in the Gift Club by a contribution of any amount towards the individual's Simcha. A letter of enrollment and a Gift Card bearing the name of the contributor will be sent to the celebrant.

Funds contributed in honour of the individual are accumulated until an amount sufficient to purchase a Bond is reached. A State of Israel Bond is thereafter issued in the name of the recipient of the gifts. A special pin indicating membership in the Israel Bond Club is presented to the person celebrating the Simcha.

Members of the community may enroll their children in the Gift Club for a forthcoming Simcha by contacting one of the following: Mrs. Baker, 31 Okanagan Dr., Ottawa, Ontario, K2H 7E9, 828-0832, or Mrs. Fishbain, 168 Roger Rd.,

Ottawa, Ontario, K1H 5C8, 731-0121, or the Israel Bond Office, 168 Charlotte Street, Suite 504, Ottawa, Ontario, K1N 8K6, 236-7139. Friends and family may also make contributions in honour of the individual by forwarding their contributions to one of the above addresses.

Israel Bond Breakfast

Rabbi Dr. Reuven P. Bulka was presented with the Jerusalem award by the State of Israel Bonds at a Breakfast in his honour held at Machzikei Hadas Congregation on Sunday, September 2. Pictured holding the Jerusalem award for outstanding service for the economic development of Israel are Rabbi Bulka and Rabbi Shear Cohen, the Chief Rabbi of Haifa, who was the guest speaker at the breakfast. Shown with Rabbi Bulka and Rabbi Cohen are (left to right), Harry Hecht, Parnass of Congregation Machzikei Hadas, Harry Rosenberg, President of the Congregation, Naomi Bulka and Arnon Miller, Israel Bond Chairman of Machzikei Hadas Congregation.

Pro-Falasha Group Formed

Ottawa Responds to Falashas' Plight
by David Marigold

This is part Two in a series on the Falashas.

An Ottawa committee has been established to inform the local Jewish community about the plight of the Falashas (Black Jews of Ethiopia) and take other necessary measures on their behalf.

Zecharias Yona, an Ethiopian-born thirty-year-old Israeli, recently spoke at the Ottawa Jewish Community Centre as part of a North American speaking tour on the Falasha crisis.

The Falashas face extinction by 1985 if immediate steps are not taken, according to Mr. Yona. Over 7,000 people, or over one-third of the population, have been killed in the last four years. The 1975 population of 26,000 has been reduced to less than 20,000.

"Every week we receive letters from our brothers and sisters in Ethiopia telling us of more people killed or sold into slavery," Mr. Yona said. Many cases of torture and sexual abuse have also been documented.

Reports also claim that there are an estimated 7,000 Falashas made homeless in Ethiopia and over 2,000 refugees rotting in refugee camps in nearby countries.

In 1974, Haile Selassie's feudal regime was overthrown by the Marxist military government which is presently in power. According to Mr. Yona, (a graduate of both Haile Selassie and Tel Aviv Universities) the poverty stricken Falashas are loyal to the Marxists because the government's land-distribution policy gives them rights they never had under Selassie. However, the Falashas have become an easy target of both left-wing and right-wing rebel armies which have terrorized the Gondar region (where most Falashas live) in the last three years. Although the Marxist regime tries to protect them, government soldiers are usually busy fighting Arab and PLO-backed insurrections in far away areas of the country.

Mr. Yona said that the Falasha's situation has been particularly perilous since Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Dayan admitted publicly on February 6, 1978, that Israel is supplying the military government. The right-wing rebel army led by Haile Selassie's aristocratic relatives have also taken revenge against the Falasha Jews since then as a substitute for Israel, he said.

According to Mr. Yona, "Prime Minister Begin is the only person willing and able to do something about the Falashas' plight." In 1977, the Prime Minister signed an agreement with Ethiopia's Marxist government whereby Jews were allowed to emigrate freely to Israel for the first time. (Haile Selassie's government generally opposed their emigration.) However, only about 120 Falashas have been permitted entry into Israel since then. About 400 Falashas currently reside in Israel where they have become model citizens, he said.

Mr. Yona, an active leader of the Israeli Falasha community since emigrating to Israel eight years ago, said that this inaction is particularly inexcusable since the Falashas were officially recognized as Jews by Israel's Chief Sephardic Rabbi Ovadia Yosef and Chief Ashkenazi Rabbi Shlomo Goren in 1975. The Rabbis' recognition, therefore, entitled the Falashas to make Aliyah under Israel's Law of Return. According to Mr. Yona, some Israeli officials are not interested. "We heard many excuses before. Now that there is genocide, there is complete silence," he said.

The Jewish Agency is the only organization empowered to handle Aliyah matters. However, there are currently no Agency representatives in Ethiopia, even for information purposes. (Organizations like the Agency and ORT had previously been present in Ethiopia to help educate the Falashas.) The Agency explains this absence by saying that Israel has no diplomatic relations with the current Ethiopian government, yet other Israeli representatives are allowed to move about freely in Ethiopia, Mr. Yona said.

Further information about the Falashas' plight can be obtained by calling Ottawa Falasha Committee Chairmen Michael Parkin (235-9952), David Sharkey (733-1023), Marc Eliany (679-2528) and Rabbini advisor, Rabbi Donald Gerber (828-6180). Details of the next Committee meeting in early October will be announced shortly.

The Crowning Touch

By Rabbi Irving Schreier

"Avvinu Malkeinu" "our father our king". These are words we shall recite over and over again in this High Holy day season. It is a combination phrase that conjures up paternalism and majesty. Fathers are already in place when we make our entrance into the human family; kings on the other hand are placed on their throne usually by the will of the people.

In this season of obsession with the significance of life, it would be well to touch on the aspect of the "peoples will".

Going back to Biblical times is a debate between those who advocated a monarchy and those who advocated a democracy—Why do people want to have a king? The Book of Proverbs has the wise king saying "For the transgressions of land, many are the princes thereof, but a man of understanding establisheth order which shall long continue." (Proverbs 28:2). (At this point I leave you to draw your own inferences vis a vis the provincial and federal government.) There are some who say that when the people rule, the people suffer, and an old Arabic tale has it that a wise man used to curse his enemies and say: "May G-d multiply your sheiks, your rulers". And the argument runs, when there is no strong man in authority the people break loose, but the guardian of the law keeps them on the right path.

Rosh Hashanah's haftarah portion relates the birth to Samuel, the great Prophet of Israel. Late in his career the people came to Samuel and pleaded: "Give us a king...appoint us a king to govern us like all the nations." Samuel warned them what would happen and what a king would do to them, take their grain, take their wives and their fields etc. They rejected his caveat and said: "No, we want to be like all of the peoples of the earth, we want a king to rule us—lead us to war—to fight our battles." When Samuel spoke to G-d about this matter, G-d answered, "If they want a king, let them have it."

Now, the Bible tells us very specifically: "When you enter the land that the Lord your G-d has given you, make the decision that: 'I will set a king over me as all other nations do.'"

The great sages of the past debated: is the appointment of a king a CHOVAH or a R'SHUT?...is it obligatory or is it a matter of the peoples choice? Most scholars said it was a CHOVAH, an obligatory commandment. But the great commentator Abarbanel said: "No, it is not obligatory. It is a choice that has to be made." But regardless of "choice" or "obligation" a king of Israel was not an absolute king. He was subject to the rule of law. The law? He had to have two Sifrey Torah written for him. One was kept in the Aron Hakodesh (Holy Ark), the other was literally in his hand when he was seated on the throne. It was a road map teaching him where to go. It also contained a recorded message: "Listen carefully. This is a Torah which any Jew can study. It is a Torah which any Jew can learn, and you sir, may be the king of Israel, but you are subject to the higher law of G-d." Whereas in other societies rulers were considered the law or above the law, the Jewish message kept matters in proper perspective.

On Friday evening we have a weekly reminder, ADOSHEM MOLOCH, the Lord reigneth; and on Rosh Hashanah, our annual memory jogger, when we pray "M'LOCH AL KOL HA-ARETZ BICHVODECHA"—Rule over all the earth in Your Glory."

NDF, Liberal, Conservative, the pot continues to boil as it ever will. We Jews come from a tradition that has known the tension between kingship and democracy.

Democracy may be a loose thing and authority can be quite terrible. Judaism attempts to prevent polarization in government, and like a good cook, attempts to achieve a proper balance of ingredients, so that the dish that comes to the table is not a chafing one.

We royalize democracy by giving a knowledge of Torah to all of our children, and we democratize royalty by telling the king that he is subject to the reign of Torah.

Although this Holy day celebrates the birthday of the world, we crown G-d this day and not mortal man. The world is not yet redeemed, we are beset with societies' troubles. But this is our hope, this is our expectation, this is our prayer: "BAYOM HAHU." There will be a day. The Lord will be One and His name One.

Jewish Community Centre News

Thanks to JCC Campaign Volunteers

by Noreen Bostoy,
Chairman,
Membership & Publicity
Committee

The Jewish Community Centre has many faces...and thanks to your support, there are many more. With active participation, the Centre will continue to be the hub of Jewish family enjoyment in Ottawa. Social, cultural, educational and physical health and fitness activities are the magnets that draw us into the Jewish Community Centre. The Jewish community would sorely miss a Centre if one was not in existence. Only through your participation will the Centre remain a vital institution and grow.

One look at this year's program guide shows the wide range of activities of interest to all members of the family — from the "kinder" to the "alte". I'm sure each of you will find an interest in which you can participate.

On behalf of the Board of Directors I would like to thank all the many volunteers who worked so diligently as telephone canvassers in the campaign, for laying the groundwork for another successful year for the Centre. Special thanks must be extended to Martin Tatz who was instrumental in organizing and training telephone canvassers and to Roz Gershon for her assistance in publicity.

Thank you all for your support.

Institute of Jewish Studies — 1979 Fall Courses

Carleton's School of Continuing Education in co-operation with the Ottawa Jewish Community's Institute of Jewish Studies offers courses of study leading to the Certificate in Jewish Studies and a more advanced Diploma in Jewish Studies.

The Certificate in Jewish Studies is granted by Continuing Education on successful completion of any six non-credit courses in Jewish Studies. Courses CE620, 627, 628 and 629 are offered in the 1979 Fall term. A further series of Jewish Studies courses will be offered in the 1980 Winter term.

THE HOLOCAUST

Thursdays, 8:00-10:00 p.m.
8 sessions, beginning October 18
Course No. CE620
Fee: $40

The historical background to the Jewish experience in Nazi-occupied Europe, the Nazi program of persecution and annihilation, and the effects and implications of the Holocaust. Topics: demography and culture of European Jewry in the 19th and 20th centuries; nature, roots, and politics of European anti-semitism; Hitler's rise to power and Nazi ideology; the "final solution"; Jewish responses; world reactions; establishment of the state of Israel; and religious and ethical implications. Course leader, Alti B. Rodal.

HEBREW I

Mondays, 8:00-10:00 p.m.
10 sessions, beginning October 15

BASIC JUDAISM

Tuesdays, 8:00-10:00 p.m.
8 sessions, beginning October 16
Course No. CE628
Fee: $40

The origins and development of the basic beliefs and practices of Judaism with emphasis on contemporary Jewish trends. Topics: beginnings of Jewish group life; development of religious ideals from biblical to medieval times; effect of the enlightenment; divergent religious ideas; Jewish reform movement; orthodox Judaism; conservative Judaism; the Chasidic reality. Course leader, Samuel H. Asher.

CONTEMPORARY JEWISH WRITERS

Mondays, 8:00-10:00 p.m.
10 sessions, beginning October 15
Course No. CE627
Fee: $50

The fundamental and auxiliary themes in the works of Elie Wiesel, Saul Bellow, Chaim Potok, and Isaac Bashevis Singer. Participants analyze the specific Jewishness of the content in light of the author's perspective. Course leader, Rabbi Irving Schreier.

Registration Information

REGISTRATION

Registration for courses leading to the Certificate in Jewish Studies is by mail or in person at Continuing Education, Room 302, Administration Building, Carleton University, Ottawa K1S 5B6 (evening hours 7:00-9:00 p.m., Monday to Thursday). When writing, please give name in full, address and telephone (residence and business). The fee, in full, must be enclosed, payable to Carleton University. Post-dated cheques will not be accepted. The University reserves the right to cancel any course for which there is insufficient registration, in which case tuition fees will be refunded in full.

Senior Citizens

Senior Citizens who enrol in Extension (non-credit) courses may have 50% of the regular registration fees waived.

Income Tax Receipts

Tuition fees of $25.00 or more may be claimed as Income Tax deductions. Official receipts for this purpose will be mailed automatically in February, 1980 to students who register in 1979 Extension courses.

Bus Service

OC Transpo provides direct bus service to the Carleton campus. Check with OC Transpo for appropriate routes.

Parking

For the majority of Extension students driving to campus, use of the campus parking lots on a pay-by-visit basis is the most economical method. As an alternative, parking permits may be purchased upon presentation of the Confirmation of Registration slip at the Parking and Traffic Section, Foyer, Administration Building, 231-3725.

Diploma in Jewish Studies

THE DIPLOMA IN JEWISH STUDIES is granted by the Ottawa Jewish Community's Institute of Jewish Studies on completion of requirements for the Certificate program and the equivalent of two full courses chosen from the following list of credit courses offered by Carleton's Department of Religion:

34.104* Religious Traditions in the Middle East (1/2 credit)
34.219 Life, Thought and Wisdom in Ancient Israel
34.240 Judaism and the Jewish People
Persons wishing to register in the credit course listed above are advised to contact Continuing Education, 231-6660.

Golden Age Club Corner The Word:

On July 2, 45 members of the Golden Age Club travelled to Montreal's Golden Age Association. Lunch in their cafeteria was a culinary delight, and many of the Ottawa people later requested recipes from G.A.A. kitchen staff. With the kind permission of Evelyn Merson and the Golden Age Association, we reprint the following and promise that more will come throughout the year.

HONEY-PEACH CRISP — 6 servings

6 peaches, peeled and sliced
1/2 cup broken walnuts
1 tbs. lemon juice
1/3 cup liquid honey
1/2 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 cup rolled oats
3/4 tsp. cinnamon
1/3 cup soft butter
Pouring cream OR ice cream

HEAT oven to 375 degrees.

Butter a 1 1/2 qt. casserole. PUT peaches in prepared casserole. Sprinkle with walnuts. Combine lemon juice and honey and pour over. BLEND flour, rolled oats, cinnamon and butter, first with a fork, then with fingers until crumbly. Spread over peaches. BAKE 30 to 35 minutes or until peaches are tender and topping is browned. Serve warm with pouring cream or ice cream.

BROILED TOMATOES —
These cheese-topped tomatoes harmonize with veal, chicken or fish dishes.
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1/4 cup grated Parmesan or Gruyère Cheese, onion, white part only
2 tablespoons minced parsley
2 large ripe tomatoes, sliced into thirds, or 3 smaller tomatoes, halved

Preheat broiler. Combine all ingredients except tomatoes in bowl and blend well. Gently spread mixture about 1/4 inch thick on tomatoes. Broil 4 inches from heat source 2 or 3 minutes, or until lightly browned, watching carefully so that topping does not burn. Serve immediately.

A Happy and Healthy New Year!

Teen Council

Approaching the end of a decade is always a time for reflection and forethought. At the J.C.C. the coming of the 1980's will also herald in a new and unique approach to all facets of programming. The past years have seen a steady increase in program attendance but along with this, a growing number of young people have taken the initiative to help lead, nurture and develop ideas for their peers.

Teen Council is one of these ideas. Born in the early 70's Teen Council was to be the tool young people would use to help develop ideas for programming etc. With its rebirth last year, we hope to make this season's Teen Council a viable working unit.

Teen Council consists of a representative from each Jewish Youth group in the city, including BBYO, (3 BBG Chapters and 2 AZA Chapters) DROR, USY, NCSY, and Temple Israel Youth. They meet on a monthly basis at the J.C.C. to help co-ordinate and plan programs and activities for Jewish Youth. This year it is also

By Bernie Farber,
Youth
Director

hoped that Teen Council can produce a monthly Teen Newsletter, and a "Who's Who" Teen Telephone Directory.

Much work has to be done, but if we are going to succeed, we need Teen support. Without you, it won't work. Therefore, anyone wishing to lend a hand this year, please call me as soon as possible. If it's information you require on any aspect of Teen Programming or Jewish Teen group registration, answers can be provided by phoning 232-7306 and asking for Bernie. Good luck at school. Hope to see you down at the J.C.C.

ROSH HASHANAH

Greetings For The New Year from the President of Israel

As we enter the year 5740, I send from Jerusalem to Jewish communities everywhere the traditional blessing of "Ktiva vahatima tova" — a good inscription and sealing.

5740 dawns upon a troubled world, disturbed in its economic and political functioning. Not least stormy are the conditions in and about our homeland, Israel, and they require both our vigilance and our activity. Yet, at the same time, within the complex of Israel's present situation there is a new hope for the emergence of peace, and there are the constant factors of the determination and creativity of our people in Israel and the attachment and aid of those outside.

For what do we hope in 5740? For satisfactory development of the peace negotiations with Egypt and extension of their approach to other sectors of the Middle East. For a greater measure of success in closing the social gap in Israel and effectively guiding its economy. For emphasis in all communities on Jewish education and on the ties that bind us to each other and to our people's centre in Israel.

For a vigorous and idealistic movement of olim to Israel from all the corners of our dispersion. For the strength and wisdom to persevere in building a society and a culture that will truly revive the Jewish people, its heritage, and the Land with which it is forever bound.

To all the house of Israel I send my hopes for 'bodily health and inspiration from above'.

Council Corner

The National Council of Jewish Women is holding its annual Israeli brunch at the home of Mrs. Herbert Nadolny on Tuesday, October 16. The convenor is Suzanne Cohen, 596-1090.

THE ADOLESCENT

By Marilyn Newman

Time was when everything seemed to happen naturally, and there was no need for any particular orientation on the rearing of children. That time has passed. We are now in a period when the complexities of life require the greatest possible understanding from anyone who wants to be a successful parent.

On Sunday November 4,

National Council of Jewish Women will be co-hosting an all day session on adolescence for the Ottawa community. It will be held at the Royal Ottawa Hospital from 9.00 a.m.-4.00 p.m. The format consists of Speakers and lunch followed by workshops. Topics that will be discussed include: Adolescence—time for hoping, dreaming and growing; Growth and sexuality in adolescence—whither responsibility; Conflicts in adolescence (Independence versus Dependence); Use of drugs and alcohol; Adolescence and school failures and Adolescence in a permissive society.

Chairing the day will be Dr. Selwyn Smith, Chief of Psychiatry of the R.O.H. Speakers include Dr. Hy Caplan, Senior Consulting Psychiatrist at the R.O.H. and Dr. Jay Spence, Paediatric and Adolescent Gynecologist at the Children's Hospital of Eastern Ontario.

The NCJW is grateful to these local professionals, and many others who have generously donated their time and expertise for this occasion.

Registration is limited, due to limited availability of space. The price, including lunch and parking is $15.00 per person. Cheques are to be made payable to National Council of Jewish Women and sent to Mrs. Leon Bronstein, 50 Beaver Ridge, Ottawa, Ont. K2E 6E1. For further information contact Marilyn Newman, 722-0793, or Dodo Bronstein, 224-4156.

Further information regarding guest speakers and specific dates for each session will be announced later.

Judaic Institute classes are held at Young Israel Congregation, and are open to the entire Jewish community. A nominal registration fee of $10 covers participation in all classes offered by the Institute.

Fall and Spring Shabbatons, featuring visiting guest speakers, are also in the planning stages at this time. Details will be made available well in advance of each event.

Chapter Meeting

B'nai B'rith Women, Ottawa Chapter No. 421, will hold a General Meeting on Oct. 3 at 12.30 p.m. at the Home of Mrs. George Gara, 232 Island Pk. Drive. The best seller book—"Passages"—by Gail Sheehy will be reviewed by Helen Aikenhead, journalist and free lance writer. A light luncheon will be served.

Dror News for ages 9-16

Dror—Ottawa provides unique programming for all Jewish youth between the ages of 9 and 16. Besides the usual social activities, such as movies, games and sports, Dror employs many programs involving zionism and Israel.

These programs feature guest speakers, Palestinian propaganda films, simulation games and discussions. The programs are intended to provide fun and excitement as well as a learning experience.

Friday night programs also include candle lighting, mifkad (flagpole), current events, and a snack. Friday nights are for all Jewish youth from ages of 13 and up.

A newspaper, or Igeret, is printed every month and includes recent world current events, and articles written by the chanihim (members) themselves. Every second Sunday, a fun and exciting program is provided for all youth between the ages of 9 and 12.

Special programs are run quite often at Dror. All the Jewish holidays are celebrated in an Israeli fashion. Special program themes range from political problems in the Mid East to the P.L.O. and peace. Dror Program Director, Avi Lior believes that socializing for the youth is important, and should have a meaning, as well as be fun. Dror tries to introduce youth to an awareness of their surroundings and their Jewish identity.

Qualifications for the Dror counsellors are two years' service in the movement and participation in a program in Israel. Although Dror programs are for youth, the counsellors welcome and invite parents to come and visit the Dror Moadon (clubhouse) 1547 Chateleine, for it is felt that their support is also important.
